Standing up against injustices, training the leaders of tomorrow, and caring for the well-being of our most vulnerable friends and neighbors has always been our strength. Today, that work has taken on new dimension, urgency, and importance. With every family and woman who finds a place to stay through YWCA Columbus, we get closer to our long-term goal: to decrease the number of people who are homeless, subject to eviction, or living in shelters. To create a more equitable Franklin County, where everyone has the resources they need and the dignity they deserve.
